NOTICE.

THE collection of works described in the accompanying pages require more than ordinary notice. It rarely happens that an assemblage of such unusual merit is found together.

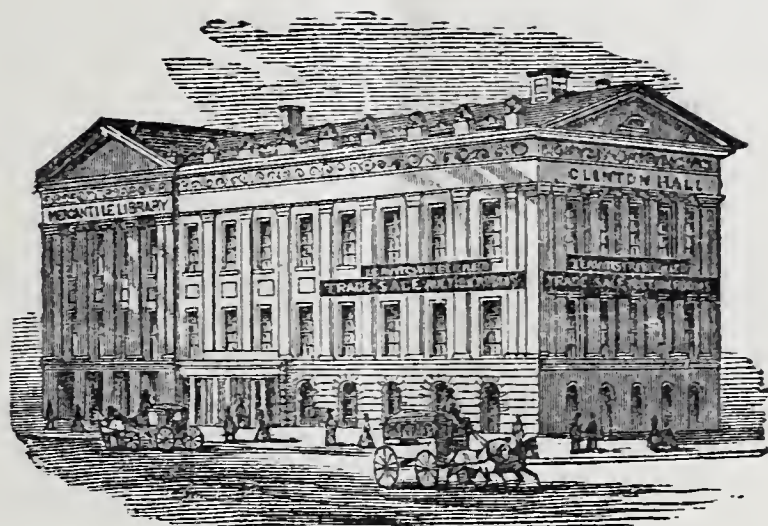

Among the various lots deserving attention, should be particularly named, an unique set of the rare 1839 Edition of Byron's Poetical Works. These eight volumes cost their owner several hundred dollars, and comprise series of India proof engravings, and proofs before letters. A beautiful set of Scott's Poetical Works, and of Lord Campbell's Justices and Chancellors, are added in a similar manner, and include many fine gems of the engraving art.

To art connoisseurs, the Catalogue can not fail to have great interest. The magnificent copy of the Dresden Galley, with brilliant India proof engravings, is equally noticeable, with the handsome set of the original edition of Boydell's Shakespeare, text and plates, in nine volumes, folio. The collection is further enhanced by elegant copies of Finden's Byron's Illustrations and Beauties; Finden's Bible Illustrations, brilliant India proofs; a superb example of the British Gallery; Turner's Liber Studiorum; the Wilkie Gallery; a folio Hogarth, with the rare and suppressed plates, and many other fine art volumes.

The original editions of Audubon, and Bachmann's Quadrupeds; Lord Kingsborough's Mexico; Strutt's Dresses and Antiquities of England; Owen Jones' Alhambra; Macklin's Bible; the rare, privately printed, Edinburgh Rabelais; large paper copies of the 1811 edition of the Works of Addison; Mrs. Aphra Behn's Works; Woodfall's Junius; and Butler's Hudibras; an original set of Prescott; Peter Pindar, 5 vols.; T. F. Dibdin's London Theatre; Grote's Greece, 12 vols.; Nicolas' Orders of Knighthood; Allibone's Dictionary; Strickland's Queens of England; Hardiman's Irish Minstrelsy; Gordon's Ecclesiastical Annals of Scotland; Mrs. Jameson's Legends; the privately printed Riverside Montaigne's Essays; Burton's Melancholy, and Disraeli's Amenities; Boswell's Life of Johnson; the rare Athenæ Britannicæ; Motherwell's Minstrelsy; the Newgate Calendar; Prout's Ship of Fools; and a host of other unique, rare, and scarce editions, many beautifully bound in the best styles, of the highest importance to the general reader and the bibliophile, make the Catalogue one of the most attractive character.

A splendid copy!
‘It is not only the most extensive Bibliographical Dictionary extant, but the most comprehensive ‘classified record of works,’ by English and American authors, ever compiled. What gives a great and novel charm to the work, is the introduction of criticisms on the various authors, which are selected from the best authorities. The article on Shakespeare alone occupies 49 pages, in which 1,040 printed volumes and tracts are named.”—B. QUARITCH.

Text. Half bound in russia, and Plates in half morocco. ORIGINAL EDITION.
Published by J. J. Audubon, New York, 1845-54
The worthy companion of Audubon’s great work on birds. No equally grand work on mammals has ever been published. Audubon was justly celebrated for the truth and accuracy of his descriptions, and chiefly for the vigor and lifelike character of his drawings. Naturalists and collectors, who have room for this magnificent work in their library, should obtain a copy such as this, and as originally issued by the author. Copies are becoming rarer and rarer in the market daily. To each species of quadruped there is a full description, and the illustrations are most beautifully executed by Bowen, in fac-simile of the author’s original drawings.

- 16 AUDUBON. BIRDS OF AMERICA, from the original drawings of J. J. Audubon, re-issued by J. W. Audubon. Vol. I. of plates. Large folio, half russia.

Roe Lockwood, N. Y., 1860

The plates in this superb re-issue are almost as lifelike as in the original edition. Executed, as they are, by chromo-lithography, it is not difficult to see that, for most purposes, these charming fac-similes are equal in value to Audubon's own designs. The coloring is brilliant in the extreme.

ACON (Francis). The two books of. Of the Proficiency and Advancement of Learning—Divine and Human. 8vo, half calf. London, 1852

Printed for John Murray by A Spottiswoode, London, 1839

The collection of very rare prints making up this BEAUTIFUL and UNIQUE set of Byron, were gotten together by the owner at the cost of several hundred dollars. The engravings are all of the highest degree of rarity, and many are either on India paper or proofs before letters. A large number are unique, and others may be safely considered now unprocurable. The portraits inserted in illustration of "English Bards and Scotch Reviewers," and also of the illustrious individuals immortalized by Byron in Don Juan, are particularly valuable. When it is considered that some of these engravings are worth several dollars each, the extreme value of this unrivalled set can be readily learned by even the bibliographical tyro.

275 KINGSBOROUGH'S (Lord) ANTIQUITIES OF MEXICO.

Comprising fac-similes of Ancient Mexican Paintings and Hieroglyphics, preserved in the Royal Libraries of Paris, Berlin, and Dresden; in the Imperial Library of Vienna; in the Vatican Library; in the Borgian Museum at Rome; in the Library of the Institute of Bologna; and in the Bodleian Library at Oxford; together with the Monuments of New Spain, by M. Dupaix. Illustrated by many valuable unedited MSS. 9 vols. imperial folio, containing upwards of 1,000 large plates embracing all the remains of Mexican Architecture, Art, Religion, etc., (pub. at £175.) Half morocco, gilt edges. 1830-48

“When some four centuries ago, the enterprise of Spanish navigators opened the vast continent of America to the admiration of Europe, the civilization of the New World was found to be concentrated in two spots, and two only, of that enormous territory. One of these favoured regions was Peru; the other was Mexico. IT WAS IN MEXICO ESPECIALLY THAT ART, POLITICS, AND SCIENCE HAD RECEIVED THEIR GREATEST DEVELOPMENT. Mexico alone redeemed the character of the new continent, and presented to the eyes of the invader a spectacle so marvellous as to satisfy even the expectations which the great discovery had raised. There the Spaniards found an organized State, an ancient polity, an opulent capital, an exalted dynasty, a formidable priesthood, and a people well skilled in mechanical and decorative arts. So great, in fact, was the proficiency of the Mexican workmen, so elaborate the system of government, and so impressive the whole evidence of wealth and grandeur, that for some time the civilization of Mexico was regarded as superior to that of Europe. Although indeed the researches of modern inquirers have enabled us to supply some corrective to these ideas, it is really probable that in certain respects the Spaniards found Mexico more advanced than Spain, and we have been recently assured on the authority of a comprehensive history that this civilization was the necessary incident of geographical and natural advantages. Such was the situation and configuration of Mexico that it could hardly fail to make progress, and all that was discovered there in the shape of national wealth or political order represented the extraordinary opportunities which nature had provided.”—Times, Dec. 8, 1858.

"Montaigne and Howell's Letters are my bedside books. I like to hear them tell their old stories over and over again. But I am informed that both of them tell coarse stories. I don't heed them. It was a custom of their time, as it is of Highlanders and Hottentots, to dispense with a part of dress which we all wear in cities."
—THACKERAY.
